

Word Generation 3.15

Who is Responsible for Protecting Teens from Online Predators?

Your TOPIC Sentence:

I believe _____ should be held responsible to ensure that teens are safe from online predators.

~>Support Statement/Reason you believe this

~>Support Statement/Reason you believe this

~>Support Statement/Reason you believe this

Position A MySpace should be held responsible for protecting teens from online predators because MySpace created the social network. They should at least set a minimum age of 18 Can't control age input No sure way to stop online predators Social Networking should be 18 & up Need to be FAMILIAR with person Can't control what is done on website	Position C It is the parents' responsibility to protect their children. They need to moitor their kids' Internet activity Parent need to check on kids!! A lot of kids don't want parents checking on them so they would be good Kids need to take responsibility/Kids will be careful with what they post Make the situation worse--parents baby them New technology will do it on Smartphone
Position B The government should help set up school affiliated email accounts for all middle high school kids. This would create a protected space so adults cannot interact with teens online. There will not be online predators Would predators HACK the site? Government has other things to deal with Still have CYBERBULLYING If Gov involved better chance NO HACK No one would use this site--Not "cool"	Position D Nothing should change. Setting limits of any kind will only push teens to use other unmonitored sites. No b/c need to work through together b/c it is a problem Kids are going to not listen b/c they don't like being told what to do There should be some type of monitoring Kids will find a loop hole

Position A MySpace should be held responsible for protecting teens from online predators because MySpace created the social network. They should at least set a minimum age of 18 Kid lie about age anyway--not social network prob Kid get in trouble on own--not social network prob when Pred make their account no logical way to tell if a person is an online predator Need a REPORT or block button should have ACTIVE Admins & Moderators on site	Position C It is the parents' responsibility to protect their children. They need to moitor their kids' Internet activity Not the parents--teen should be responsible Parent should WATCH/See what teen do online Parents at work a lot and cant always watch
Position B The government should help set up school affiliated email accounts for all middle high school kids. This would create a protected space so adults cannot interact with teens online. Government already spends too much time and resources on other projects Yes bc it would be safe no adults on the website Predators/hackers can get around those blocks or take someone's identity Privacy! Keep the government out of our lives	Position D Nothing should change. Setting limits of any kind will only push teens to use other unmonitored sites. If you are on the internet & you are smart enough to lie about your age you are accountable for your actions If make rules kids know how to get around them kids will go to a "not watched" website anyway

Position A MySpace should be held responsible for protecting teens from online predators because MySpace created the social network. They should at least set a minimum age of 18 Requiring ACTUAL documentation for age Check pictures to ensure age Do a background check Require a credit card for deposit Require an ID photo Website needs more SAFETY Features	Position C It is the parents' responsibility to protect their children. They need to moitor their kids' Internet activity Parents should monitor where/what kids do Monitor time kids are on the websites Put safety blocks/admin passwords/block Check the history of laptops and phones Check "friend" lists
Position B The government should help set up school affiliated email accounts for all middle high school kids. This would create a protected space so adults cannot interact with teens online. Government has authority over states Government can run background checks Government are the authorities and can notify police Government should make a bigger DEAL and do more "SAFETY" advertising	Position D Nothing should change. Setting limits of any kind will only push teens to use other unmonitored sites. Should be parents & kids responsibility Kids don't always follow rules need sticter rules More strict the rules the more kids will rebel Kids need to realize what they post and how affect future

Position A MySpace should be held responsible for protecting teens from online predators because MySpace created the social network. They should at least set a minimum age of 18 so predators have less access to kids if gone to jail for same offense a block on the account Do background checks on ALL people who apply for membership Need a REPORT or block button should have ACTIVE Admins & Moderators on site	Position C It is the parents' responsibility to protect their children. They need to moitor their kids' Internet activity Should be checking kids accounts/activity Parent should monitor kids activity Parents in charge in kids personal on-line lives trying to raise to be good kids Put safety blocks/admin passwords/block Check the history of laptops and phones Check "friend" lists
Position B The government should help set up school affiliated email accounts for all middle high school kids. This would create a protected space so adults cannot interact with teens online. site on line so govt should control/monitor activity govt best experiance--should set up a "internet safety/police depart. Most report to police anyway so do it one time it is a crime so it needs some type of police Need a REPORT or block button should have ACTIVE Admins & Moderators on site	Position D Nothing should change. Setting limits of any kind will only push teens to use other unmonitored sites. Kids will find a way around any blocks Kids/hackers can get where they need to go Kids will use friends computers Kids will delete/edit their friends lists according to when M&D check their accounts If you are on the internet & you are smart enough to lie about your age you are accountable for your actions

Position A

MySpace should be held responsible for protecting teens from online predators because MySpace created the social network. They should at least set a minimum age of 18

- to do background checks of ALL users
- Age verification require documentation
- Set a higher age
- Need a REPORT or block button
- should have ACTIVE Admins & Moderators on site

Position B

The government should help set up school affiliated email accounts for all middle high school kids. This would create a protected space so adults cannot interact with teens online.

- Make sure no one with serious criminal record on social networking sites to protect ALL citizens
- To make sure no one under 40 can make inappropriate comments to under 18
- Have a "Safe" website for ALL students site on line so govt should control/monitor activity
- govt best experience--should set up a "internet safety/police depart. Most report to police anyway so do it one time
- it is a crime so it needs some type of police
- Need a REPORT or block button
- should have ACTIVE Admins & Moderators on site

Position C

It is the parents' responsibility to protect their children. They need to moitor their kids' Internet activity

- Parents NEED to check kids computers/tech when done
- Limit the time on computers Block certain sites
- Monitor kids on computer Change password to computer so only parents know
- Check history Check friends list have kids give username & passwords, enforce idea of online safety, look up digital foot print, monitor social accounts

Position D

- Nothing should change. Setting limits of any kind will only push teens to use other unmonitored sites.
- Kids will find a way around any blocks
- Kids/hackers can get where they need to go
- Kids will use friends computers
- Kids will delete/edit their friends lists according to when M&D check their accounts
- If you are on the internet & you are smart enough to lie about your age you are accountable for your actions

Position A MySpace should be held responsible for protecting teens from online predators because MySpace created the social network. They should at least set a minimum age of 18 Anything posted on the website is the property of the social network and they should monitor it It is their company and they should be responsible to do background checks of ALL users Age verification require documentation Set a higher age Need a REPORT or block button should have ACTIVE Admins & Moderators on site	Position C It is the parents' responsibility to protect their children. They need to moitor their kids' Internet activity It is their child they need to monitor their own kids Watch what the kids post, Parent check the kids accounts Parents look at the history, Parents NEED to check kids computers/tech when done Monitor kids on computer Change password to computer so only parents know Check friends list have kids give username & passwords, enforce idea of online safety, look up digital foot print, monitor social accounts
Position B The government should help set up school affiliated email accounts for all middle high school kids. This would create a protected space so adults cannot interact with teens online. they allow the website to go on so they should monitor Make sure no one with serious criminal record on social networking sitesto protect ALL citizens To make sure no one under 40 can make inappropriate comments to under 18 Have a "Safe" website for ALL students site on line so govt should control/monitor activity govt best experience--should set up a "internet safety/police depart. Most report to police anyway so do it one time it is a crime so it needs some type of police Need a REPORT or block button should have ACTIVE Admins & Moderators on site	Position D Nothing should change. Setting limits of any kind will only push teens to use other unmonitored sites. Kids will find a way around any blocks Kids/hackers can get where they need to go Kids will use friends computers Kids will delete/edit their friends lists according to when M&D check their accounts If you are on the internet & you are smart enough to lie about your age you are accountable for your actions

Position A--MySpace should be held responsible Anything posted on the website is the property of the social network and they should monitor it It is their company and they should be responsible to do background checks of ALL users Age verification require documentation Set a higher age Need a REPORT or block button should have ACTIVE Admins & Moderators on site	Position C--parents' responsibility It is their child they need to monitor their own kids Watch what the kids post, Parent check the kids accounts Parents look at the history, Parents NEED to check kids computers/tech when done Monitor kids on computer Change password to computer so only parents know Check friends list have kids give username & passwords, enforce idea of online safety, look up digital foot print, monitor social accounts
Position B--government is responsible. they allow the website to go on so they should monitor Make sure no one with serious criminal record on social networking sites to protect ALL citizens To make sure no one under 40 can make inappropriate comments to under 18 Have a "Safe" website for ALL students site on line so govt should control/monitor activity govt best experience--should set up a "internet safety/police depart. Most report to police anyway so do it one time it is a crime so it needs some type of police Need a REPORT or block button should have ACTIVE Admins & Moderators on site	Position D--Nothing should change. Kids will find a way around any blocks Kids/hackers can get where they need to go Kids will use friends computers Kids will delete/edit their friends lists according to when M&D check their accounts If you are on the internet & you are smart enough to lie about your age you are accountable for your actions